Bess, Hardinsburg; Savings Bank section, to succeed Hugh Rose, Louisville; National Bank section, to succeed A. M. Larkin, Newport; State Bank section, to succeed W. B. Snow, of Providence.

FRANCE SAYS HUNS MUST GIVE BOND

(By Associated Press)

Bar le Duc, France, Aug. 21.—France will not consent to a moratorium of any character for Germany unless the German state mines of Ruhr and the national forests are placed in the hands of the Allies as a guarantee. No matter what happens, France will not depart from this policy. This position of the French government was outlined by Premier Poincare in a speech here today.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY DROWNS IN CHINA

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 21.—Associated Press correspondence from Shanghai, China, brought news of the death by drowning July 16 of Rev. L. W. Pierce, a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary here and held a pastorate at the Elk Creek Baptist church near Taylorsville in Spencer county 30 years ago. He had been a missionary in China since

THINK REDS HAD HAND IN WRECK

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Efforts to link the wreck of a Michigan Central train at Gary, Indiana, last night in which two men were killed, with activities of radicals, continues here today. The offices of William Z. Foster, termed "one of the most dangerous radicals in existence," were raided and papers seized. He is head of the trades union educational league. His papers, authorities said, disclosed a widespread "one big union" propaganda among railroad workers.

DUNBAR SELLS CITY PROPERTY

Real Estate Agent L. W. Dunbar, manager of the Freeman Realty Company, conducted the sale of the old Bronston home on Woodland avenue for J. S. Sewell this week. The purchaser was Mrs. Jennie K. Slavin, of Garrard county. It is understood that she will come here to make her home. The purchase price is understood to have been $8,000. Possession will be given Sept. 1, 1922. Mr. Dunbar is being congratulated on making the sale which, it is understood, he concluded to the entire satisfaction of all parties.

NO ARRESTS OVER JOHNSTOWN "FLOOD"

(By Associated Press)

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 21.—Mayor Caufield's invitation to saloons and breweries to sell "real beer and ale" failed to bring a flood of the prohibited beverage, according to reports of federal prohibition agents here today. Seven agents are on duty and no arrests had been made. Meanwhile the saloons Saturday night were flooded with requests for the real thing.

Mayor Caufield was silent today, but his smile indicated he is satisfied with the situation.

No Band Concert This Week

There will be no band concert this week on account of several members of the band being absent from the city on vacation.

WANT FOX HUNTERS TO MEET HERE NEXT

Urged That Richmond Invite National Association To Hold Next Meeting Here

A lot of folks are saying that Richmond should make some effort to secure the annual meeting of the National Fox Hunters' Association which will be held the third week in November. This is the biggest gathering of fox hunters in the country and would be the entertainment by Richmond of a large number of distinguished men from all over the nation.

The Executive Committee of the Association meets in Lexington Friday to select the place of the next meeting. J. L. Kanatzar is president of the Association this year and J. W. Maupin secretary. It is felt by many that it would be an appropriate thing to select Madison county at this time as host for the coming meeting. Madison has the two principal officers of the association this year and as everyone knows, Madison county has more fox hunters and hound dogs within her borders than any other one county in the world. It has been suggested that a delegation be sent from the Chamber of Commerce to the committee meeting at Lexington to urge the claims of this community as the ideal spot for the meet.

BRODHEAD TWIRLER BUMPS PAINT LICK

Brodhead, Ky., Aug. 20.—Paint Lick bumped into a real pitcher by the name of Bacon and got trounced to the tune of 5 to 1. Bacon was so stingy with base hits, he only allowed three. Red Beasley started the game for Paint Lick, but gave way to Lackey, Paint Lick's pitching ace, in the third. Lackey held the Brodhead boys down pretty well for the remainder of the game. They say Bacon don't pitch such a thing as a curve ball, but they get up to a batter and make a guy think "they ain't when they are." That kind are what they call "mean hops." The battery for Paint Lick: Beasley, Lackey, and Patrick; for Brodhead: Bacon and Pike.

HARRODSBURG FINDS BLUE LICK EASY

Bohon Park, Harrodsburg, Ky., Aug. 18.—The Blue Lick Hustlers gave away another game in a free scoring machine by a mess of errors and wild throwing. Griggs for Harrodsburg pitched just fair ball but received good support. Bowman for the Hustlers, was very unsteady, walking five men, also receiving ragged support. Harrison, short stop for the Hustlers, booted three and threw one wild to Harris at first. The Harrodsburg shot stop and second sacker played the best ball for the winners, Harrison, center garden for the Hustlers, did some excellent fielding, accepting every chance. Also the Hustlers had to put up with some rotten decisions by the ump. Score: Hustlers 110 000 00—2 Harrodsburg 311 240 00—11 The umpires were changed in the fifth. Hickman replaced Bowman for the Hustlers in the seventh.

SWIFT PRODUCE REVIEW

The supply of cream delivered to the creameries during the week was smaller than last week, and has resulted in higher prices being paid for butterfat and butter. The consumption is ahead of last year. It is not expected at this time that importations will be heavy.

Egg receipts are lighter and there is a continued good demand for good eggs. To secure best prices, eggs should be gathered daily, kept in a cool place, and marketed frequently.

The volume of poultry moving is sufficient for current use; in fact, there has been a little surplus of dressed chickens and broilers this week, resulting in some decline in price.

BEAUTIFUL K. T. BURIAL RITUAL USED

The impressive service of the Episcopal church at the home and grave and the deeply beautiful ritual of the Knights Templar were said over the mortal remains of Louis B. Weisenburgh, who was laid away in his last resting place Sunday afternoon. Bishop Lewis W. Burton, of Lexington, led with the sacred service, assisted by the father-in-law of the deceased, Rev. H. H. Sneed, of Gulfport, Miss. Former Grand Commander Robert R. Burnam, Sr., of the Knights Templar, conducted the Masonic service.

Honorary pallbearers were managers of the various ice plants of which the deceased was a principal owner. They were: W. R. Sneed, manager Valley Ice Company, Hamilton, Ohio; A. O. Wilson, manager Artificial Ice Company, South Bend, Indiana; J. L. Glass, manager Middletown Ice & Coal Company, Middletown, Ohio; H. R. Burton, manager Jefferson Ice & Cold Storage Company, Columbus, Ohio; Geo. D. Ramsey, manager Troy Ice Company, Troy, Ohio; H. J. Kerns, manager Consumers Ice & Fuel Co., New Castle, Indiana; W. Arnold Hanger, manager Lafayette Ice & Coal Co., Lafayette, Indiana. The actual pallbearers were: J. Hale Dean, S. M. Sausley, Harvey Chenault, R. E. Turley, Clyde Darrah, of Hamilton, O., and J. J. Greenleaf.

The floral tributes were magnificent and by their numbers testified to the esteem in which Mr. Weisenburgh was held by a host of friends.

V. A. Kadltenbrum and daughter, Mrs. Joe Barr, of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rupert, Mrs. L. B. Weisenburgh, Jr., of Frankfort, Charles Sneed, of Gulfport, Miss., Dr. J. H. Weisenburgh, of Fort Worth, Texas, Charles E. Weisenburgh, of Montgomery, Ala., and P. A. Weisenburgh, of Indianapolis, attended the funeral of L. B. Weisenburgh here Sunday.

W. N. Kinser Funeral

Funeral services for W. N. Kinser were held at his late residence Sunday morning, at 8 o'clock, conducted by Dr. E. C. McDougle. Messrs. W. L. Arnold, J. Bowman, J. C. Ballard and Mr. Matherly composed the choir. Accompanied by the members of the family the body was taken to Eminence for interment. Mr. Shannon, the undertaker from Shelbyville, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

CALDWELL HANDLES BIG FARM DEAL

The Charles Cotton farm on the Irvine pike has been sold to John M. Thomas, of Bybee town, and possession will be given on Nov. 1st, it is understood. The sale price was $12,000 and the negotiations leading to the transaction were conducted by Real Estate Agent Frank P. Caldwell, who handled the deal in such a way that all were pleased. The sale is regarded as a forerunner of many similar deals during the fall and winter. Real estate men say the market is looking better all the time.

"Life's Darn Funny"

Viola Dana, the petite Metro star, is of the opinion that the title of her latest picture was just made to express the way she finds things in this topsy turvy world. Miss Dana returned to the coast after a six weeks' vacation in New York during which she had a wonderful time. Then on reporting to the studio she was informed that the name of her next picture would be "Life's Darn Funny." "Just what I think," sighed Miss Dana. "Life's Darn Funny" was adapted from Catherine Jope Sade's Saturday Evening Post story, and will be shown at local theatres Tuesday.

COUNTY JUDGES TO HELP ON COAL

Gov. Morrow Names All of Them In Kentucky To Co-operate On Situation

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21.—With the appointment by Governor Morrow of every county judge in the state as a member of the Governor's coal distribution committee, efforts to see coal properly distributed and profiteering minimized, got into full swing today. The Governor advised the judges he is looking to them to assist in maintaining all federal coal administration regulations. At the same time he sent letters to the coal operators, saying they must see the regulations are lived up to.

Hour To Push Coal Fact Finding Commission

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Chairman Winslow of the House Commerce Committee, after a conference with President Harding today, announced he would introduce immediately a bill to create the Fact Finding Coal Commission as recommended by the President in his special message to Congress. Winslow said the bill would call for Presidential appointment of a commission not to exceed nine members with instructions to report to Congress next July. The commission would have wide powers, including the right to examine the books of the various coal producing companies.

Winslow's bill was later introduced in the House. Meanwhile the anthracite operators and miners negotiated to proceed today with negotiations to settle the hard coal strike. The scale committee of the Indiana operators and miners arranged to open negotiations for a soft coal settlement and the Michigan mines resumed operations after nearly five months shut down.

Hope In Illinois

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—Hope for agreements between the Illinois operators and miners was expressed by both sides today. It is officially announced the operators have to some extent receded from their position on arbitration.

BRODHEAD WINS THE FAIR BALL GAME

Brodhead Fair Grounds, Brodhead, Ky., Aug. 19.—Brodhead defeated the fast Stanford team in an uncertain game until last man was out. Brodhead had the lead until the sixth when the visitors got to Page for a fusillade of hits and which made it a 10-0 lead for the locals. Brodhead's big league pitcher from the Falls City, relieved Page and shot 'em by the visitors so fast with such awful hops on them that the Stanford boys couldn't see them. Bacon allowed one hit and struck out five men in the three innings he worked. Embury pitched fair for the visitors. Bacon also also got the hit that helped the locals in their victory. Pike, who did the catching for the locals, did some good work. The score: Stanford 011 005 000—7 Brodhead 111 002 04—9 Hits off Page 5 in 6 innings; off Bacon, 1 in 3 innings; off Embury 13. Struck out by Page 5; in 6 innings; by Bacon 5 in 3 innings. Errors, Brodhead 1; Stanford 3. Time 2 hours; attendance 4,000; umpire Paul.

Oldest Mason In South Dies In East Tennessee

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 21.—A Times Knoxville special today says Frederick William Gerding, once a prominent Louisville wholesaler and the oldest Mason in the South, died a recluse in the hills of eastern Tennessee Sunday. The death of his wife, a French countess, caused him to seek seclusion many years ago.

FINE CHICKENS BURN IN BARN BLAZE

The fire department was called to K. street late Saturday night, where the barn of Mrs. Cora Smith was entirely destroyed almost before the flames were discovered. The building was covered by insurance. A number of fine chickens that were in the habit of roosting in the barn, were burned.

Don't forget that it's very wise to see the Burnham Insurance Agency before the fire department calls on you.

SEARCHING AROUND BOONESBORO FOR CLEW

$50 Reward Offered For Bloody Clothing or Weapon Used In Renaker Murder

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 21.—The date of the examining trial of Reese Fox, accused of complicity in the murder of Leon Renaker, mysteriously slain at his home July 26, will not be set before Tuesday.

Fox was brought before County Judge R. S. Seabee Saturday by his attorneys, W. F. Wycoff and James Winn, who said that the defense will not be ready to ask for such a date until Tuesday.

County Attorney H. H. Moore agreed to have action postponed until that time when another conference of counsel for the prosecution and defense will be held with Judge Seabee.

According to the law, Fox must be brought out every third day and given an opportunity to have his trial set.

"I'll be out and paying ball again in a week or two," Fox said after a two and one-half hour conference with members of his family and attorney Sunday afternoon in reference to his trial.

Fox, who broke his ankle a week before his arrest, while playing on the baseball team of the First Baptist church in the Twilight League series, was taken from his cell to the office of Mr. Winn, one of his attorneys, for the conference.

James G. Denny of Lexington, will also be employed as counsel for Fox, it is rumored here today. It is said that Mr. Denny has been employed by Fox's grandfather, John Reese, with whom the boy made his home, and by his mother Mrs. Richard Oliver.

Fox has discarded his crutch since being in jail and walked up the street with the aid of a cane.

His principal defense, it is indicated, will be an attempt to prove an alibi by the statement of his grandfather, John Reese, wealthy farmer, that the youth was at home at 12 o'clock on the night of the murder.

Fox claims that he drove Hardman to the home of Hardman's sister, Mrs. Clyde Douglas, at twenty minutes to twelve o'clock the night of the murder and that he was eating a cold supper in the kitchen of his grandfather's farm house three miles from Winchester as the clock on the mantel shelf in the room struck twelve.

His grandfather will testify that Fox awakened him, asking him to call Fox early the next morning, as Fox wanted to go to Louisville, he said.

Fox, who is 22 years old, will be heir to a considerable fortune thru his grandfather Reese and his other grandfather, Jas. A. Fox, of Lexington.

New evidence obtained since the examining trial by the detectives and local officials include alleged corroborations by several witnesses of the statement of Hardman South, ferryman at Boonesboro, that he took Hardman and Reese Fox in a roadster on his ferry across the river considerably past midnight on the night of the murder.

Investigations of the officers have extended to Clay's Ferry, the nearest bridge by which a person may cross the river to the Clark county side and to other bridges beyond.

A $50 reward has been offered by Chief of Police Mullins to anybody who finds clothes or a weapon in the Kentucky river or along the river or shore. A number of people living at Boonesboro and along the river are searching the bushes and fishing in the water for the weapon or bloody clothes. No dredging operations have begun, however. The reward was offered on the theory that the bloody clothes or weapon had been pitched out by the murderer, who ever he may have been.

The prosecution has abandoned as a possible clue the scream heard by Mrs. William Phillips, who stated soon after the body of Leon Renaker was discovered on the bed in his room that she was awakened on the night of the murder by a cry of "Help! Help!" and several other words.
